

Endless Mountain Labradors Launches Redesigned Website

Endless Mountain Labradors is a reputable breeder of AKC, English-build Labradors (stocky, blocky, large blocky heads) for family, show, and field.

Corning, NY – September 17, 2014

Endless Mountain Labradors of Columbia Crossroads, PA has launched a new website designed by creative web design firm, inCommand Technologies.

inCommand Technologies worked closely with Endless Mountain Labradors to design a new website that would meet their online business goals. This new website employs Responsive Web Design and the WordPress Content Management System. This allows Endless Mountain Labradors to update every aspect of their website while still presenting a user-friendly website that works across all devices. As part of the project a search engine optimization campaign was also completed.

About Endless Mountain Labradors

Endless Mountain Labradors has been producing outstanding puppies that are family and house raised since 1988. These puppies have a flawless, low-key temperament and are selectively bred with careful genetic screening. They also offer what many other lab breeders can't claim:

- EIC Clearance (cleared for Exercise Induced Collapse)
- OFA Certified Clearance: hips, elbows and heart
- Optigen tested to eliminate genetic eye defects, including PRA found in labs
- CERF tested to eliminate genetic eye defects (retinal folds, cataracts, etc)
